HAVE HAMMER, WILL BUILD: APPLICATION PROCESS OPENS FOR FOURTH ANNUAL WHIRLPOOL® BUILDING BLOCKS PROGRAM WITH HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

Whirlpool Kicks Off Nationwide Search for Volunteers to Join Annual Habitat for Humanity Community Building Blitz

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., April 20, 2009 – Whirlpool brand and Habitat for Humanity are searching coast-to-coast for the team of volunteers who will join them in Atlanta for the fourth annual Whirlpool® Building Blocks program home-building blitz. From April 20 to May 8, 2009, volunteers can apply at www.whirlpool.com/buildingblocks for the opportunity to build homes and lift hearts in an effort to raise awareness of the need for affordable housing.

Affordable housing is one of the most crucial needs in this country – in fact, one in three American families spends more than 30 percent of its income on housing and one in seven spends more than 50 percent.* The Whirlpool® Building Blocks program brings together hundreds of volunteers from around the country to work hand-in-hand, turning lumber, shingles and thousands of nails into homes with qualified Habitat families. Volunteers do not need prior building or Habitat experience to apply.

“Three years, 28 homes and hundreds of volunteer hours later, we’re taking the Whirlpool® Building Blocks program to Atlanta and are on the lookout for our 2009 build team,” said Ellen Taaffe, vice president, Mass Brands, Whirlpool Corporation. “For 10 years, Whirlpool has supported Habitat for Humanity in its mission to provide families with simple, decent housing. This program is an extension of that commitment and we ask interested and committed volunteers to join us as we continue to help eliminate substandard housing.”

From August 31 to September 4, 2009, the Whirlpool® Building Blocks build team will construct eight Habitat homes in The Avery neighborhood, a new housing development in the Clayton County area of south metro Atlanta. Atlanta is one of the fastest growing metropolitan areas in the country, yet it suffers from a deficit of approximately 85,000 affordable homes, according to a 2007 Georgia Tech study. The Atlanta build is a collaboration among Whirlpool brand, Habitat for Humanity International, Atlanta Habitat for Humanity and Southern Crescent Habitat for Humanity. Atlanta is the fourth city to be chosen for the program, which kicked off in Nashville in 2006, moved to Phoenix in 2007 and continued in Dallas in November 2008.

Each year, the Whirlpool® Building Blocks program recognizes an outstanding Habitat for Humanity affiliate in the United States by organizing a weeklong building blitz. Whirlpool Corporation is one of Habitat for Humanity’s largest corporate partners, donating a range and ENERGY STAR® qualified refrigerator to every new Habitat home built in North America. Every year, thousands of Whirlpool employees volunteer their own time to participate in Habitat builds around the country. The partnership began in 1999, and Whirlpool brand plans to support every new Habitat home built globally by 2011, through product donations, cash or volunteerism.

The Whirlpool® Building Blocks community continues to live on Facebook, enabling volunteers – past, present and future – to exchange stories, share photos and lend encouragement. Non-volunteers also are invited to follow the build's progress via the page. To visit the Whirlpool® Building Blocks Facebook page, go to www.whirlpool.com/BuildingBlocksFacebook.
